NEW ROAD TO RICHMOND

Path-finders Say Cost Would be Small.

SHORT ROUTE COVERED

L. B. Manville and E. B. Dennie Cut Seventeen Miles Off Distance by Following Railroad in Automobile. Highway in Fairly Good Shape.

Superintendent L. B. Manville, of the Old Dominion Land Company, Commissioner of Roads Oliver Curtis, of Warwick county, and E. B. Dennie returned to this city yesterday morning from a path-finding trip to Richmond in Mr. Dennie's Standard-Dayton automobile. They expect this trip to prove the beginning of a movement for the building of a direct highway between this city and Richmond. This matter has been agitated for a couple of months and a number of local people have become interested in the project.

Leaving this city Thursday morning, the party went over to Richmond over a route out of the beaten path and they reduced the distance between this city and Richmond by seventeen miles. The road usually used by automobile up the Peninsula is 160 miles long, but by following the Chesapeake & Ohio railway tracks through out nearly the entire trip the path-finding party traveled over only 88 miles to reach the State capital.

Good, Solid Roads Found.

The tourists report that for the most part the roads they followed were well formed and in fairly good condition and that the cost of putting them into first-class shape would be comparatively small. Comparatively little sand was found, the roads being mostly of hard clay. The old route to Richmond is very sandy and the cost of putting that road into first-class shape would be rather great.

Superintendent Manville, who is an enthusiast on good roads, favors the construction from this city to Richmond of roads like those which have been built in Warwick county by Commissioner Curtis. Those roads were built at a comparatively small cost, and yet they are considered as very good road highways. Commissioner Curtis believes that the roads traveled over by the path-finding party can be easily drained and rounded and the cost of the outer covering of shells will be much less than the cost of macadam.

Seek State and County Aid.

The plan as proposed for the building of the road is to get the counties through which it is to pass and the cities on the route interested in the project and to secure State aid for the road. The cities and counties will be expected to furnish half the money and the State the remaining portion. As yet the State has done little for the roads on the Virginia peninsula and the local people interested believe that there will be no difficulty in securing the assistance of the Commonwealth.

A well-built highway connecting this city and Richmond and joining the intervening counties and towns would be of much value to this city as well as to the counties and towns. The local party made frequent stops during their trip and talked with a number of people in the counties and they found them very enthusiastic.

Route of Party.

After leaving this city the path-finding party went to Morrison, Lee Hall, Leblin Church, Grove, Williamsburg, and to Toano on the old road up the peninsula. Instead of following the usual route by Barhamville through New Kent county, the party went to Diasound, Windsor Shade, Providence Forge, Long Bridge and Roxbury and thence into Richmond.

The party had an accident just before reaching Richmond Thursday evening, the machine hitting a hidden stump in the road. The axle was so badly bent that it was necessary to stop and straighten it before the journey could be continued. Mr. Dennie made his repairs and went into Richmond Thursday night.

Weather at Cape Henry.

CAPE HENRY, VA., Oct. 15.—Light fog, wind northeast, six miles, smooth sea.

Advisory Storm Warning.

Collector of Customs J. E. B. Stuart yesterday received the following advisory storm warning from the weather bureau at Washington:

"Advisory, 11 a. m. Hurricane has remained nearly stationary during the past twelve hours. Still centered west of the Florida keys in the Gulf of Mexico. It is apparently recircling and is now taking northerly course and will probably turn to northeastward over the Florida peninsula. It is still of great intensity and wide extent and its progress will be marked by dangerous gales and vessels should be given necessary caution."

Heliopolis Arrives Here.

The British steamer Heliopolis, Captain Ketchy, arrived in port yesterday to load 3,700 tons of coal for one of the United States naval coaling stations in the Pacific. The vessel has a crew of Chinamen on board, and the "Chinks" will be closely guarded to see that none of them get ashore.

Two Naval Colliers Sail.

The United States naval colliers Hector and Vestal finished loading cargoes of coal here yesterday and dropped down to Hampton Roads to await orders as to their destination. Their cargoes aggregate 15,000 tons.

Quiet on Waterfront.

Yesterday was a rather quiet day on the waterfront, only four vessels coming into port during the day. All of these will take full cargoes of coal.

Excursion to Yorktown.

Steamer Will Leave Here Tomorrow Morning.

A special excursion to Yorktown for the benefit of local people desiring to attend the celebration of the anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis, will be run by the steamer Hampton Roads tomorrow.

The steamer will leave pier A at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, starting on the waterfront, only four vessels coming into port during the day. All of these will take full cargoes of coal.

Revenue Cutters Are

Ordered to Yorktown

Little Vessels Are to Take Part in Anniversary Celebration Wednesday.

Information was received here yesterday from Washington that the United States revenue cutters Apache, now at Baltimore, and Onondaga, at Norfolk, have been ordered to proceed to Yorktown on October 19 to participate in the celebration of the anniversary of the surrender of the British forces under Lord Cornwallis to the allied forces under General Washington.

The navy department has ordered the scout cruiser Birmingham to Yorktown to take part in the celebration and sailors from that vessel will march in the parade. Sailors and marines from Norfolk and soldiers from Fort Monroe also will take part in the parade.

TWO MEN WOUNDED IN BRIEF ENCOUNTER

John Simpson Sustains Broken Head While Richard Randall Gets Two Cuts.

In what the police claim must have been the quickest fight on record John Simpson, a young negro, sustained a broken head and Richard Randall, also colored, received two ugly looking knife wounds about 10:30 o'clock last night at Jefferson avenue and Twenty-fourth street. Both men were subsequently arrested by Sergeant Bridges and Patrolman Price and Padgett.

Simpson's wounds are merely cuts of the scalp and are not serious, but Randall has a deep gash in the small of his back directly over the spine and another deep stab wound on the left side just below the heart. Simpson admits the cutting and says that he used a pen knife which is now in the possession of the officers. One of the blades of the knife is broken off and the officers believe that it was snapped when Simpson stabbed

Randall. A woman is said to have been the cause of the fight. Randall was talking with her when Simpson came up. Some words ensued and Simpson claims that Randall and his brother, John Randall, struck him over the head with beer bottles. However, Richard Randall says he did not hit Simpson until the latter had stabbed him with the knife. Richard and John Randall were arrested by the three officers after a short chase and Simpson was later arrested at the office of Dr. W. R. Aylett, 113 Thirtieth street. The negro went to the doctor's office and had his wounds dressed.

Colored Bible Class.

The following well-known colored men are organizing a men's Bible class, with N. B. Clark as preceptor: J. I. Mitchell, W. P. Redcross, J. H. P. Coleman, L. J. Jordan, J. H. Harwood, E. W. Lee, James Taliaferro, C. C. Brown, W. Ward Pinkett, J. W. Washington, E. W. Jones, W. T. Morse, J. S. Lee, Dr. P. A. Scott, Dr. W. T. Jones, J. Thomas Newcom, W. R. Walker, Dr. Norman Lassiter and Dr. H. G. Conwell. The class meets Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Odd Fellows' Hall, Madison avenue.

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In the course of a week I noticed the piles began to disappear and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured and feel like a new man." George Kryder, Napoleon, O.
